Narberth's Civic Spirit Challenged By Confirmatory Election Next Monday

EVERY PUBLIC SPIRITED VOTER SHOULD TURN OUT AND BACK UP THE OVERWHELMING PLAYGROUND
MAJORITY REGISTERED IN NOVEMBER

On next Monday, February 6, an important special election will be held in Elm Hall, Narberth.

Its purpose will be to ratify the decision reached by our citizens in November, when 731 votes were cast in approval of the plan to purchase the railroad plot for Community purposes.

A most unfortunate error on the part of the County officials precluded the immediate fulfillment of the popular will.

It may have been possible to have overcome the technicality with a court decision, in view of the pronounced majority in favor of the purchase, but the procedure would probably have been long drawn out, and was not regarded as nearly as satisfactory as a formal confirmation of the first result by a special election.

The County is paying for this special election.

Councils, governed by the wish of the people so manifestly declared, at once prepared another ordinance similar in all respects to the original one, and fixed the time for the special election at the earliest possible date at which it could occur under the procedure necessary.

That date is Monday, next, February 6.

The proverb says that ill winds always blow some good, and it has been so in this instance, as the Bonds can now be issued at a lower rate than would have been the case in the Fall, and the further consideration of the matter which the complication made necessary has revealed many additional advantages to Narberth which are combined in the approval of the purchase.

The outstanding benefit is the manner in which the purchase will safeguard us against an exorbitant future tax rate.

In our clubs, associations, etc., it is customary to move for unanimous approval of an important action, particularly elections, where division has previously occurred, but the opportunity has seldom if ever been presented in a municipal election.

It will be interesting to watch how Narberth will rise to the unusual occasion.

That we are put on our mettle goes without question, but there is great optimism that a handsome spirit will prevail and that if the vote for approval is not altogether unanimous, it will be nearly so.

Many voters who, for various reasons, were not in favor of the plan in November, have since declared their intention to vote "yes" on Monday.

In some instances, it will be because of a better understanding of all the facts of the project, but in numerous cases, it will be because of a wholesome desire to respect the will of the majority.

Let us have confidence in the calibre of our Community.

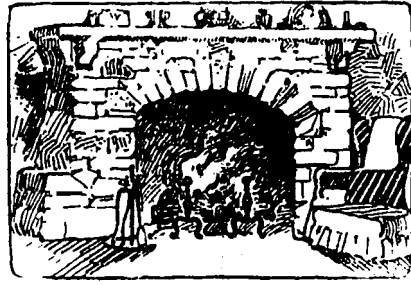

During the last week, the presiding officers of the various Narberth activities have joined together in a Citizens' Committee to insure unanimous approval, and in their statement, they urge all voters, men and women, to come out and vote "yes" at Monday's election.

Our Town, believing most heartily in the proposal, and acting for the Civic Association, also calls on our people to spare a few minutes for the important duty of voting at this election to ratify.

We want our Borough to continue as a strictly residential community. Vote "yes" that it might be so. We want our Schools to expand and progress. A vote of "yes" will help that come to pass. We want a future tax rate that will not be burdensome on us. A vote of "yes" will save us thousands of dollars. We want outdoor facilities that other towns have and which a place like Narberth should not be without. A vote of "yes" will bring that about.

It would indeed be a sorry spectacle if we did not avail ourselves of a very extraordinary opportunity.

By all means, vote YES.

Narberth Choral To Increase Membership

ASSOCIATE AND SUSTAINING
MEMBERSHIPS TO INSURE FUTURE OF THE SOCIETY

Invitations are being sent out to a number of citizens of our Borough and of the surrounding communities asking for associate and sustaining memberships for the current year.

The Society's first year has just closed without a deficit. Yes, but it should be made clear, that had it not been for the associate members and a few other friends of the Chorus, it would not have been possible to start the new year without the burden of a large debt. Dues of the singers and receipts from tickets are far from adequate to meet current expenses. In order that the director and the members of the Chorus may be free to devote all their time and energy in perfecting the programs, the Board of Directors has decided to ask the community to guarantee the budget needed for a successful year, which plan has been found necessary with practically every successful musical organization. These guarantors are to be called "sustaining members."

The Chorus has settled down to hard work in preparation for its March concert, when it will "row, row, gently row" "buz, buz, buz," and various other pretty things. Several new singers have been passed by the membership Committee and Prof. Nice.

The members of the Choral are hoping for an early and favorable reply from the School Board to which a petition has been made asking for the Auditorium for rehearsals.

There will be a legislative talk by Mrs. E. P. Stager. She will give an outline of Borough Government, describing a corporation town and the officers required, and how they are chosen. There will be a review of the Monday Conference, music and a cup of tea.

Barking Dog Saves Family From Fire

QUICK ACTION OF NARBERTH
FIRE COMPANY SAVES ELM-
WOOD AVENUE HOUSE

The family of F. A. Egnore, of 19 Elmwood Avenue, was saved from death early Monday morning, when the barking of "Sport," a pet dog, belonging to the children, awakened the household.

At 2:15 A. M., Mr. Egnore, who has been quite ill, awoke, hearing the dog barking in the cellar, and found the house in flames. It is said that sparks from the smoldering fireplace dropped to inflammable material in the cellar, the blaze reached the dining room, where it burned all the furniture, and also did damage in both the kitchen and parlor.

Mr. Egnore, with his wife and son Frederick, aged 11, and two little nephews who lived with them, Francis and Bobbie Boyle, left the house in safety. Then, realizing that the dog was still down the cellar, Mr. Egnore went back and rescued the pet.

The Narberth Fire Company was called first thing, scarcely a minute before the fires burned off. They responded in remarkable time, bringing the equipment, and getting water on the blaze within ten minutes. Had they been delayed at all, the house would undoubtedly have burned to the ground. The flames were soon under control. The family was given shelter in the home of Otto V. Kruse, next door.

This remarkable achievement of our local volunteers is certainly worthy of note, when one considers the time of night, and the well-nigh impassible condition of the roads. As most residents know, every householder in town is presumed to be a member of the Company, the dues of which are three dollars per year. Bills are mailed to many, but it is the duty—and certainly a small one—for every resident to send in his share to Charles V. Noel whether or not he receives the bill.

Community Library Shows Rapid Growth

REMARKABLE WIDENING OF IN-FLUENCE IS BROUGHT OUT IN FIRST ANNUAL REPORT

One year ago 18 books forming the nucleus of the Women's Community Club library, were placed on the window sill of a private home. This collection, increased by purchases from rentals and by gifts, now numbers 454 and through the generous co-operation of the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A., finds a home in the lobby of the Y. M. C. A. building, where it is open to the public every Friday afternoon from 2 to 5:30, and in the evening from 7 to 8:30. At the same time the books of the Y. M. C. A. are made available without charge. For the new book there is a charge of 10 cent a week which provides an income for the purchase of new books.

One year ago there were six persons to take advantage of this small library.

RAISE $340 FOR VISITING NURSES —CARD PARTY A BIG SUCCESS—

The chairman of the Visiting Nurses Committee, Mrs. Fletcher W. Stites, and her co-workers wish to thank the people of Narberth for their very generous support, and their help in making the card party last Friday a big success.

The community room in the Y. M. C. A. was filled, and a very pleasant afternoon was enjoyed by all. Fudge which was furnished by the Junior Community girls and members of the Committee, was sold and brought fifteen dollars.

Punch and cakes were served as refreshments, the punch donated by the Committee and the crackers by Mr. Gallagher of the American Stores.

All of the stores and shops were solicited, and contributed one hundred per cent. To date the total receipts are $340. If you haven't by any chance contributed to this very worthy cause, won't you send in your donation today? Every one is asked to help, and the response has been splendid.

The chairs were donated by St. Margaret's Church, and were hauled free of charge by Sabie Censore. The Community Club gave their very valuable help as did the Tennis Club, and the committee extends their thanks to one and all.

VOTE YES ON MONDAY

A vote of "yes" at the special election on Monday means a very great service to the Borough from many standpoints.

First of all, it guards us against a burdensome future tax rate. We can't stand still in our school development and if we don't accept what we can get now for a mill, we will have to pay several mills later on for something not nearly as good. The man who tells you otherwise does not know the facts of the case.

Approval of the project will immediately stabilize the value of every property in the community. Let the opportunity be missed and we forthwith invite depreciating influences which will have their effect in all sections of the Borough. This unsightly plot has contributed its full share to that curious conception of Narberth's calibre which obtains in the towns west of us, and we ought to have done with it.

The election on Monday is to ratify the November decision. We need not look for a dog-in-the-manger attitude that would make it otherwise. Narberth is a white man's town. The outstanding feature of the occasion is the opportunity to make the vote unanimously in favor. Every man and woman who voted "yes" in November should confirm their approval on Monday. Those who were opposed to it in November have an excellent chance to do a handsome thing, a particularly gracious act, by now subscribing to the will of the majority so manifestly expressed. Let's hope it will be unanimous.

Election Sidelights

One of the men who took a day off from his business to lend a hand at the election last November, kept a memorandum of the result of his effort. Out of 27 voters who were not favorably disposed to the purchase of the Outdoor Community Centre, 23 were the victims of gross inaccuracies and immediately withdrew their objections when the real facts of the case were explained to them. One man said that the fact that Council had approved it was enough to make him oppose it, two bombastic dissenters saw the slimy hand of jobbery in the venture and one woman said the town was too "stuck-up" as it was.

Coming out of the polls, our man dambouantly declared—he had voted "agin' it." He invited discussion of his reasons for doing so and he startled his hearers by telling them that a million dollars was enough for a borough like Narberth to owe, and he did not think the debt ought to be further increased. He made amends by hustling home and bringing back his wife, who had not previously intended to come, and she offset his negative ballot with a vote of yes.

Another lady voted "no," because her tax bill was a dollar more than that received by her sister of the same occupation. Roy Jones lost 7 votes for himself while he was endeavoring to explain that horrible happening.

One of our esteemed citizens, just passing through his Indian Summer, made a plea that he was utterly opposed to that he wanted no discussion of the matter. Just behind him, walked his good looking daughter, and she volunteered the information that her vote would make a blossom out of his. Later she said that he always was stubborn when business was bad.

Another young lady from Narbrook Park voted on age, marked a besides "yes" and the Republican square, and then declared she intended to vote the straight Republican ticket all her life.

There were not less than a hundred women who came out to vote "yes" who had ever voted before. One of them was a venerable lady of 79 years—who took great pride in her achievement, and who has since declared she is eager to repeat the experience on February 6.

Since the election, a number of men have said that while, for various reasons, they voted "no" in November, the results of the ballot were so overwhelming in favor of the project, that they intend to vote "yes" on February 6. Americans may disagree on details, but never on fundamentals, and none of us dispute majority will. Furthermore, it is recognized that the spirit of Monday's election is to ratify, as it should be considered that the decision has been made.

It is now generally recognized that the approval of the purchase safeguards us against a burdensome future tax rate. When it is done, our total indebtedness will not exceed by much the figures combined in the Burgess' recent report covering our present status, as $13,000 of that amount will be paid off before the end of 1922. We owe very, very little for a community containing twelve million dollars' worth of property. The bond issue is only one quarter of one per cent. of that.

The vote was the largest ever cast in Narberth.

TENNIS CLUB VALENTINE DANCE TUESDAY WEEK

St. Valentine's Day—like Christmas, Fourth of July and other holidays and high days, comes but once a year, and after it is passed, it is too late to wish I hadn't forgotten.

So we give you fair warning that it is best to do your "Valentining Early," that is, think of the day before hand, and make your plans accordingly. For instance, are you a member of the Narberth Tennis Association, or a friend of a member of the Association? If so, about as nice a Valentine as you can very well think of is (or "are," suit yourself about the grammar) a couple of tickets for the St. Valentine Dance to be given by the Tennis Association at Elm Hall, on Tuesday evening, February 14.

Tickets for this affair will reach the members in a few days, and those members needing extras can get them by phoning or dropping a line to C. B. Metzger, chairman of the Entertainment Committee.

The music—furnished by Stock's Orchestra, in addition to being the best dance music in or around Philadelphia, will be especially Valentinian, whatever that may be, and a good party may be anticipated by all.

DANCE

The Valentine Dance of the Junior Women's Community Club will be held in Elm Hall next Friday, February 10th.

Anyone who has ever attended a Junior event knows what to expect—an A-1 time. Dancing will be from 9 to 1, and Pike's Orchestra will guide the syncopating couples.

THE TOWER OF BABBLE

By Collum Righter

It requires more nerve to do it the second time.

All aboard! The 9:29 pulled away, and we, rather self-effacingly, seated ourselves back of two Narberth millionaires. The topic of talk to Overbrook was mostly Florida. The way those N. M.'s discussed this beach and the other beach, was a caution sounded plausible, even at that. But they made no mention of Rex Beach at all. Page Mr. Rand and Mr. McNally, please!

A request has come in that some lines to a codfish appear in the Column. The mean streak does show in certain people. But nothing loath—and to prove our ability at handling codfish lines as well as some others here goes!

My Pet Codfish

When my pet codfish gets the creep I feed him bowls of chicken soup. And I am very glad to say that soon he's well enough to play.

It's just as strange as anything. To lead a codfish by a string; And have him follow you about, Upstairs and down, and in and out.

Though sometimes when he trips and falls

He reads the air with codfish lawis;

But as I soothe his little scales

He very quickly stops his wails.

It satisfies my fondest wish To have this little pet codfish.

It really turned out better than we thought it would.

Should women remove snow from side walks? A much mooted question—but why not? They have the vote—so give 'em the privileges along with it! We know a Corresponding Secretary who wields a most horribly vicious shovel.

Why in the name of the United States Mail do some fair Narberthites wear their four buckle arctics undone? The incidental flapping of the uppers and clicking of the loosed buckles is a rare evidence of nonchalance, maybe—but hardly in keeping with the usual trig Narberth feminine appearance—from the knees skyward. Buckleup! Buckleup!

Scout News

The meeting was called at 7.45. About 8.00 the district inspector dropped in unexpectedly. After inspection he told us that we had the highest mark from the previous inspection in our district.

We had an interesting talk from Leint. West, on wireless, who served as an operator at Camp Mende. He is going to drill us and help us get up a wireless set, so that we can listen to the orchestras from New York and Philadelphia, and get the weather and current event reports from Arlington. If anyone having any parts not in use and wants to get rid of them, any donations will be highly appreciated by all of the Scouts.

STORM BRINGS WINTER BIRDS NEAR HOMES

The snow storm of last Saturday and Sunday gave the bird lovers of Narberth an opportunity to test the efficiency of their bird feeding stations. Feeding trays on poles, bits of suet fastened to the bark of trees, and Christmas trees covered with fat into which had been stirred nuts and seeds of various kinds were the rallying points of the birds, whose natural food supply was completely covered by the snow.

Every one notes with delight and pride the presence of a cardinal in the vicinity, and we who live in this district may well rejoice at the sight of one, not only because of the brilliant plumage, the cherry note and the playful flight among the shrubs, but also because we are in almost the extreme northern limit of its range. Central Park, New York, is considered its northern limit, though it is occasionally reported farther north.

There are other birds that may be seen in our yards in winter especially, if we offer them food as mentioned above. These birds are the hairy and the downy woodpecker, purple finch, song sparrow, tree sparrow, cedar wax wing, brown creeper, junco, golden-crowned kinglet and starling. Any one who has not had an opportunity to identify the winter birds of this vicinity may be interested to consult the folder loaned at the library where are mounted colored pictures of the birds most commonly reported. There are also on the shelves copies of "Our Winter Guests," by Ernest Harold Baynes, and "Bird Life," by Frank M. Chapman. Both these books are written in simple, popular style for amateur bird students.

TO DISCUSS ASSESSMENT

The County Commissioners of Montgomery County have sent a letter to all School Directors, Borough Councilmen, and Township Commissioners in the County, asking their cooperation in equalizing assessments.

They request at least one member of each Board to come to the Court House and go over the Assessor's Books of their own districts, with a view to calling attention to inequalities. The Commissioners have in mind, not necessarily the increasing of assessments, but more particularly the equalization of assessments.

The Commissioners will sit as a Board of Revision on February 9th, for equalizing assessments.

By the Directors of the Narberth Y. M. C. A.

January 30, 1922.
Mrs. Grace E. Kreamer,

Narberth, Pa.

Dear Mrs. Kreamer:

On behalf of the Directors of the Narberth Young Men's Christian Association, we beg to extend to you our deepest sympathy for the great loss you have sustained by the death of Mr. Kreamer.

He was esteemed by us not only as a warm personal friend, but for his character as a Christian gentleman whose life was consecrated to doing good in so many ways to his fellow men. In his varied activities he was consistently devoted to all that made for a furtherance of his high ideals of life.

In our Association he devoted much of his time and thought to its advancement, having ever in mind the upbuilding of character among our young people. We keenly feel the loss of his wise counsel and encouragement, and will cherish his memory for the many sterling qualities that gave him an assured place in the estimation of his friends and associates. A copy of this letter is incorporated in our minutes as an expression of what his life and work have meant to us.

Very sincerely yours,

A. J. LOOS, President.
T. NOEL BUTLER, Vice-President.
DANIEL LEITCH, Treasurer.
Committee.

MAIN LINE SCULPTOR TO MAKE MEDALLION OF HARDING

President Warren G. Harding has consented to help the Suburban Association through the solicitation of Mr. George H. Borst, one of its Directors.

Mr. Borst, known as the "business man sculptor," is spending most of his leisure time in making portrait medallions. The proceeds of his work go to the Suburban Association.

The medallion which Mr. Borst made of Dr. Leopold Stokowski, Director of the Philadelphia Orchestra, has received general commendation and praise.

Mr. Borst wrote to the President, told him about the Suburban Association, and asked him if he would grant him the privilege of making a plaque as an endorsement of the work. The President granted his permission readily and heartily.

Mr. Borst is hard at work on this plaque, and expects soon to carry it to Washington and present it personally to the President.

Solution of School Problems in Sight

RELATION OF MONDAY'S ELECTION TO FUTURE BUILDING PLANS EXPLAINED BY MR. ROSE

In view of much comment, in the columns of Our Town and elsewhere, on the relation of the projected playground to future school development, a representative of Our Town called on Mr. Henry Rose, Secretary of the Narberth School Board, and asked him to explain this matter to our readers.

Mr. Rose favored us with a very thorough explanation of plans for better facilities. His views of the economy possible through the new Borough plan follows:

"As is generally known, Narberth's need for additional school facilities is imperative. The first four grades are now on a double shift; that is, one half of each of these grades receive instruction morning, and the other half afternoon. At the rate Narberth has been growing and the school attendance increasing, it will not be long before more of the grades will be obliged to adopt the double shift. Owing to the law which limits the borrowing capacity of the school authorities, which, by the way, is based on the assessed valuation of the Borough properties, there has been no money available for the erection of a new building. Now that the assessed valuation has been increased, however, the school directors will very likely come before the people shortly at a special election and ask for authority to increase the bonded indebtedness of the School District.

This matter of a new school building bears a very vital relation to that of the proposed acquisition by the Borough of the site of a Community Playground. There is but one suitable vacant site available for the new building and that is the school athletic field, title to which is now in the name of the School District. As will be recalled, this plot was bought several years ago by Mr. Shand and held by him for the benefit of the school until such time as the latter could finance the deal. The property had greatly increased in value in the meantime, but was delivered to the school at the original figure, plus taxes and interest only. To build on this plot would mean the elimination of the athletic field and the end of organized outdoor sports for our school children. A high school with no athletic field is no high school at all. It is hopelessly behind the times.

If the School Directors decide to preserve the field and acquire land by condemnation and purchase elsewhere, the cost to the taxpayers will be stupendous, because there is no vacant ground in Narberth of ample area to comply with the requirements of the State laws governing school locations. Of necessity this much be improved property. A conservative estimate of the value of such a property is $40,000 to $50,000, and the acreage would be very small as compared with that of the proposed community playground, which can be purchased and improved so as to be ready for use the coming summer, for $30,000.

Therefore, it would seem from the standpoint of economy, if from no other, that the 6 1/2 acre tract should be purchased before it is too late. This would provide not only an athletic field for the school children, but an open air space for many other activities in addition, and incidentally make it unnecessary for the school authorities to purchase improved property on which to locate the new building.

Therefore, a vote for the Playground is a vote for economy in school affairs."

brary, while today there are 190 names on the list of patrons, 80 of whom are children. The children's department has been greatly improved by the addition of two bookcases and a small reading table, which to date carries only three magazines, the Youth's Companion, Popular Science Monthly and the National Geographic. Isn't there some one who will contribute another magazine, such as the American Boy? Even though a week later, or a month, it would be welcome. The books in this department are distributed free, and there is so great a demand that the library is scarcely able to keep up with it. Young men and women who have books suitable for this department will be conferring a great favor to the boys and girls of this borough if they will contribute them to the library.
